Pep Rally Games

By Bernadette Russo, Sophomore

This year, in place of the traditional pig roast that marks the start of homecoming weekend, this year's event was different. Mr. Beltecas' Science Research classes took part in a new Makerspace challenge that designed carnival style games at the pep rally. "The objective was to give our students a productive, fun way to show school spirit," said Ms. Pantone, head of the Makerspace program.

Activities such as Skee-ball, Life Size Tic-Tac-Toe, Mini Golf, Giant Kerplunk, Hula Hoop Toss, and Paper Airplanes, were built by the hands of students in the Makerspace, located in room 134.

Senior Jayson Reynolds plays putt-putt.

"It was so cool to see all of these games at the Pep Rally this year," said Ben Glickman, junior. "It was a really nice change of pace."
